GIFTS TO SCHOOL LIBRARY
The heart of the English teacher in the high school was made glad by the sight of gifts made to the high school library by Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Booth. Some valuable books on mining went to the Tonopah school of mines. Tommy Fitzgerald and Beal and Earl Murphy have also presented some good books.

Don't forget to mingle with the crowd tonight at Knights of Columbus hall, and try your luck at cards.

SWIMMING POOL OPENS
The swimming pool will open for the season tomorrow night beginning at 6:30 and after that the hours will be from 12 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 10 in the evenings, which will be reserved for adults.

MINING ON A BOOM IN NEVADA SAYS STATE MINE INSPECTOR

Telling of new mines starting on every side and old mines reopening, Andy J. Stinson, state mine inspector, arrived last evening by auto from Ely, prepared to remain in Tonopah for the better part of a week to familiarize himself with local development since his previous visit here in January. At Austin, he relates that the big mine on which the former prosperity of the camp was based is getting ready to resume on a large scale and that Hamilton, the sensational silver camp of half a century ago, is beginning to show signs of returning animation. The Nevada Wonder, at Wonder, is keeping up its regular lick, and the Jack Pot, formerly owned by Nick D'Arcy, is retimbering the 150-foot shaft. At Ely 7000 men are constantly employed and the Giroux company is fast advancing as a rival of the Nevada Con., with a payroll of 600 men.

A discovery bordering on the sensational has been made at a point 20 miles southwest of Ely, where an immense deposit of manganese has been opened and will begin shipping as soon as the overburden is removed. This promises to become a property of phenomenal tonnage. Six miles north of Mill City, in Humboldt county, the tungsten mines are working to full capacity and the Friedman company is credited with netting $1000 a day. Battle Mountain is going ahead with all the activity of a boom mining camp since the discovery of the enormously rich copper-gold ledge on the Kimberly group, which was struck when the management was about to call a halt on operations. The ledge runs at the rate of $50 in gold and 35 per cent copper.

WHAT'S WHAT

(By L. L. Muehett.)

Vol. 1. No. 54

Charley Blumenthal, Esq., City.

Dear Charley:—I gotta big scheme to beat the kaiser. Listen! The Tonopah Home Guard is coming along so fast that it is a cinch to get about two hundred good scrappers enrolled p. d. q. and at the arte our officers are teaching the men to forward march! and halt! and do the fancy stunts and everything they will soon be ready to, at least, take care of the home soil. Now, my scheme is to get all the other berge to start in drilling and training a bunch of men and figuring on the basis of population we will have an army of 3,000,000 all trained without any expense to the government and I wanta tell you right here that we'll be prepared to take care of any emergency. You know, Charley, it was the national guard that licked Spain so easy and they were all trained in the same way that Chris and Jimmy and Eddie are training our bunch and I'm gonna say that no ordinary army could come over and lick us. You think it over and let me know what you think about it.

Another thing: I want you to tell 'em all that I'm not French. You know, I went out the other day to get that French flag and you subscribed along with Fred Brown and the rest of the bunch and it seems like everybody got it into their noodle that I must be a Frenchman, which is alright, because I wouldn't be ashamed of it if I were, but I'm not and I'm gonna tell you how I know: When I was about three years old my grandfather took me on his knee and told me the story something like this: A long time before Chris Columbus came across in his wicker-mer there was a race of Americans who held their political conventions in the coconut trees down in Florida and by a system of evolution that race had developed for better or worse until it became the original race of Americans. They primarily walked on their hands and knees but one day a boss came from somewhere, cut off their tails, and, with the aid of a wheelbarrow, taught them to walk on their hind legs and the race developed until it produced grandfather, master of transportation, with great ox teams and everything and then the period of degeneration set in and here I am, editor

SENIOR CLASS PLAY WILL INTRODUCE NEW ORCHESTRA

Judging from the results of the Girl Scout ticket campaign yesterday, the senior class play will play to a full house on next Thursday evening in the Butler theater. The caste is well selected and the members are sparing no time nor effort to make this play the best ever given by the local high school. The high school orchestra, under direction of Miss Frances Gower, has made wonderful progress and will certainly please the audience. Those who have not heard H. W. Stotesbury's string orchestra will have the opportunity during the same evening to hear some fine music. Mr. Stotesbury has worked with these boys during the past two years and has developed an orchestra that would be a credit to any city.

SCHOOL BOARD ORGANIZES

The Tonopah school trustees organized by electing Fred J. Ninnis chairman, and Thomas J. Lynch, clerk. Owing to the fact that he is unable to give close attention to school affairs in Tonopah on account of residing in Manhattan, Trustee O. McCraney has resigned. The vacancy will be filled by the state superintendent of public instruction.

JAMES KERNS IS IMPROVING

Mrs. J. L. Simmons, the nurse who accompanied James Kerns to St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco, returned this morning with the gratifying news that her patient is improving and there is every hope for an early recovery. From the incision in the left lung one and a half quarts of liquid were taken out and the patient enjoyed two nights of rest.

AMUSEMENTS

KITTY GORDON, "THE ENGLISH LILLIAN RUSSELL"

Smart and fascinating—those are the adjectives to apply to "Diamonds and Pearls," the photoplay in which the really beautiful Kitty Gordon is starred in a particularly powerful and effective role. Miss Gordon's gowns—and she wears twenty different ones during the course of this drama—are, of course, the smartest of frocks. The settings, too, are smart and the people are of the high society sort who have plenty of money and know how to spend it. The story is a swiftly moving drama of intrigue for society position, of a woman's ambition for money and of a pure love shining brightly through all the deceit and extravagance of New York's fastest set. The climax is a smashing surprise, acted with tremendous power. This will be the attraction at the Butler this evening, and as an added attraction a two-reel knockabout comedy, "Stop! Look! Listen!" will be shown—one which is guaranteed to drive away the blues.

To-morrow, Effie Shannon and Niles Welch, in "Her Boy," a great patriotic screen drama, and a two-reel Mack Sennett comedy, "Watch Your Neighbor." Thrift stamps for the children at the matinee tomorrow.

Remember, Mary Pickford will be here Monday.

NuBone corsets are better corsets. They have all of style that can be asked for—being made to measure—fit perfectly and easily. Boned with NuBone stays, which bend edgewise as easily as flatwise, they afford entire freedom and comfort. The stay will not twist to turn a sharp edge against the body or give an and thrust to break through the corset fabric. Adv
